WoW Chinese New Year

Residents of Haven Lodge and John Kirk House are always eagerly awaiting WoW Mums' events, but specially the celebration of the Chinese New Year.

WoW Mum Jeanette Wickham has prepared the banquet with four roast Peking Ducks and Oodon noodles amongst the shower of spring rolls and Chinese Fortune Cookies.

The children sang karaoke with the residents and shared the good fortune from the pot of gold, represented by a bowl of golden Clementines.

Our next event is an Art Class on 12th March in Haven Lodge.

Thank you to our funders Big Local SW11 and People's Health Trust.

Special Thank You kiss to Joan for buying wonderful presents to Eduardo and other WoW children.

WoW Mums in Daily Star

Women of Wandsworth appeared in Daily Star magazine this month, because we have been chosen by Health Lottery as one of their good causes in South London.

This poster celebrates the success of our intergenerational scheme and will be appearing in all Health Lottery PR over the year. WoW Mums are very happy that our hard work is resonating so well with our funders.

Big Local Network

WoW Mums and all local community organisations were invited by Big Local SW11 to attend the Community Network event to share the experiences and knowledge on how to work together to improve Battersea.

We discussed the Big Local SW11 plans, based on two years consultation with the local residents and businesses on how to improve the safety and wellbeing, influence and citizenship, community and belonging, as well as how to achieve our goals. After thorough discussion we proposed and voted on the priority areas of action in Battersea. Please get involved by contacting info@biglocalsw11.co.uk

WoW Dad Andy Beech has been awarded a prestigious award for his contribution to sports activities in Wandsworth.

Andy is a Karate Master who delivers WoW Karate classes to 30 local children and organises the Karate Championships with self defence grading.

Andy is also a keen marathon runner and our fitness instructor, who prepared 4 WoW Mums for Race for Life marathon two years ago. Well done!
