WoW Christmas Parcels

As pandemic is not over yet and the flue season is upon us, WoW Mum Senia is still delivering free food to our elderly friends in John Kirk Lodge in Battersea.

This month we delivered Christmas parcels to John Kirk and Haven Lodge, generously funded by Battersea United Charities.

WoW Parent Forum

WoW Parent Forum has been very busy this year, as we had a lot of parents struggling with housing problems. We are organising another housing conference with the local Councilors next month. Next Parent Forum meeting is on 10th January in True Brew.

WoW Christmas Party

Children dancing with the balloons

WoW Mums organised a special Christmas Party for our children with a lot of activities, food and presents. Thank you to WoW Mum Teresa and Taran for making the Christmas cupcakes and to WoW Dad Andrew for electric entertainment with musical chairs, exhilarating dancing and balloon games. This was all topped up with a good raffle prizes and goody bags from Mrs. Santa.

WoW Enterprise Club

WoW Enterprise Club attended the Wandsworth Chamber of Commerce special forum where Steve Pinto stepped down as the Chair. We had the pleasure of meeting the new Chair of Wandsworth Chamber of Commerce Beverly Corson. We have also attended the celebration of the 6th Anniversary of Edge of the Box Club for entrepreneurs and start-ups organised by Chelsea Foundation. They supported over 7000 people who had a business idea and started a business. Next meeting is in January at Stamford Bridge.

Mayor's Event

WoW Mum Senia Dedic has been invited to the Town Hall to attend the Christmas event in aid of Mayor's charities: Full Circle at St. George's Hospital and Regenerate. Photo: Senia and the Mayor Richard Field
