Trip to Margate

WoW Mums, WoW Kids, Kambala Estate RA and Haven Lodge residents

Fifty people went to an inter-generational trip to Margate this month. This lovely community trip was organised by Kambala Estate RA team and partly funded by WoW Mums and Big Local SW11 organizations. This trip was much appreciated by the elderly who haven't been to Margate recently and wanted to see how it has changed from the golden era of seaside holidays from the 50s and the 60s. The children loved the golden sandy beach and the Dreamland rides, but some of us were intrigued by the Margate's mystery Shell Grotto, which is a Grade I listed labyrinth of passages decorated with mosaics made of 4.6 millions sea-shells. Nobody knows who made it, when or why.

WoW Mums at Facebook Party

One of recently self-employed WoW Mums Sandra Munoz Alvarez has been progressing successfully with her Keepsake small media business and got to work with Facebook, the networking giant, at their summer party, organised annually by Facebook for their staff. Sandra has been hired by all local community organisations to do media projects, as well as by the Clapham Junction Town Centre to edit a film about Battersea High Street.

WoW Inter-generational Lunch

WoW Mums are continuing with our inter-generational project in Battersea, with a new mandate by Big Local SW11 to mentor other local organisations to start working with sheltered housing accommodations to alleviate loneliness and isolation of elderly. This month, WoW Mums mentored the young people from The Challenge, national youth organization, who will deliver a special musical event for the residents of Haven Lodge and John Kirk House on Saturday, 26th September. The youth will play the piano, sing and help with serving the lunch.

We already had a lovely introductory event this month with them and had so much fun planning the September event. All local residents, as well as other organisations who are interested in bridging the gap between the generations are very welcome to this event.
