company and love engaging in the community life. We are pleased that WoW have been organising events in Haven Lodge, John Kirk and Dimson Lodge over the last 7 years.
Next event is in Doris Emmerton.

WoW Mums have been asked to expand our unique inter-generational coffee mornings to other lodges and sheltered accommodations, as it has been noticed that the elderly thrive in children's

WoW Art in Thrive

WoW Mums took part in Wandsworth and Chelsea Fringe Festivals by exhibiting our art in Thrive Garden, carefully chosen by local curator Mel Barry. Local writer Hilaire is Thrive Battersea's poet-in-residence, who spends time in Thrive gardens observing the interaction between people and nature, which are her inspiration.

Women of Wandsworth attended the joint Annual General Meeting of Contact a Family and Positive Parent Action in Kairos Centre in Roehamton.

Senia Dedic stepped down as the Chair of CaF Steering committee after 11 years and Elizabeth Kwarteng –Amaning was elected a new co-Chair with Emma Prescott.

Eleanor Thain from Family Information Service attended as well as Rina Pattel from Wandsworth Information, Advice and Support Service.

Mayor Making

Women of Wandsworth were kindly invited by Cllr Simon Hogg, Leader of the opposition to the spectacular Mayor Making ceremony in Wandsworth Town Hall.

We are very pleased to have been introduced to the new worshipful Mayor, Cllr Jim Madden to talk to him about his chosen charity Community Safety. This is particularly good, because of the high level of violence in Battersea.

WoW Invitation

Wandsworth Chamber of Commerce invited WoW Mums from WoW Enterprise Club to the Launch of Business Awards 2017.

Self employed WoW Mums are excited to attend the party in Bunga Bunga restaurant to network with other business people on how to be recognised for their talent and the most vibrant business in the borough.

Bramford Community Garden, led by Oliver Smalwood organised a Pollinator Path event, sponsored by London Sustainability Exchange.

LSx delivers projects that engage communities with their green spaces, providing education and activities that work towards conserving and supporting biodiversity in the capital. Its focus is on directly engaging the public, because gardens are a significant conservation resource, however research shows that 75% of young Londoners are not connected to nature.

That is why WoW Mums and WoW Kids are putting flower boxes on our balconies, as we do not have gardens, to attract more bees and insects, which are crucial for the pollination and food production.

WOW

Trip to Dover

WoW Mums enjoyed funding and helping the residents from Haven Lodge at the community trip to Dover castle organised by Kambala RA.

The weather was perfect for a seaside walk, all of our neighbors were there and the castle reviled its charms, history and the British heritage in all its glory. Dover castle was an impenetrable fortress and is known as the 'key to England'.
