WoW Chinese New Year

We had a lovely banquet, cooked by WoW Mum Jeanette Wickham for Chinese New Year celebration with three generations from our neighbourhood. Children liked sharing food and jokes with the elderly in Haven Lodge, sheltered housing accommodation. Our next event is the art class on 3rd March, which will be a part of Wandsworth Art Fringe Festival. All welcome.

WoW International Woman

WoW Mum Senia Dedić has been invited to The Wireless radio station to take part in a celebration of International Women's Day and the centenary of women's right to vote. You can listen to the discussion on Voices talk show with Nicola Kidner. This film will be aired on 8th March.

WoW Valentines Day

WoW Intergenerational Valentines breakfast was a lovely occasion to celebrate with our Battersea friends and children.

We had a special guest from The Wireless radio, in association with Age UK, who interviewed us about sentimental memories of love in Wandsworth in 1940s and 1950s. Some of these fond stories will be on The Voices radio program.

Guests from Winstanley regeneration team also came with the news and plans for the new library and the swimming pool in our neighborhood. It's great that they had this consultation with the elderly, as the pool didn't have the easy access for the elderly.

Next WoW Coffee Morning is on 14th March to celebrate the international women's day.

Andrew Beech

Andrew undertakes community work for Winstanley and York Road Estate, where he has lived for over ten years. Born and bred in Battersea, Andrew offers martial arts training to local residents to help build confidence and volunteers with the local church offering climbing training. Andrew has set up a sports programme for local residents and encourages smaller groups to integrate socially and join exercise groups. Andrew is also a Women of Wandsworth [WoW] dad, a community group founded by his good friend and mentor, 2013 housing community champion, Senia Dedic.
