CooP Grant

Women of Wandsworth were invited by CooP Community Engagement team to a meeting at the very opulent Royal Society of Arts to discuss in detail our WoW campaign for employability of single Mums (and Dads) during school hours and school holidays, as long working hours and school holidays are their main obstacle for going back to work and still having their children as a priority. There are a lot of work opportunities at CooP at the moment, with very good benefits for their work force, but we are working on Mums' friendly hours at the moment. WoW Mums are very grateful for the CooP Community grant and agree with their values and principles of a social cooperative. WoW Enterprise Club

WoW Enterprise Club members attended the Mix and Mingle event in Battersea, organised by Wandsworth Chamber of Commerce to launch their Business Awards.

It's always good to meet new business owners and new entrepreneurs at such events, where we can get new information and updates about local services.

Free Food For Elderly

WoW Mums are very worried about our elderly neighbors, who cannot carry a lot of food from the shops, since they are weak and suffer from chronic illnesses. Current triple threat economic situation in the country is not easily managed by older people, with the post Brexit, post Pandemic and High cost of living crisis. That is why we are so grateful for our volunteer driver Joe Wiczorek for delivering free food every week to John Kirk and Holmleigh Court lodge in Battersea, with the donations from A&P Foundation. Thank you so much to our funders, for making WoW Inter-generational Project so helpful.

WoW Karate

WoW Sensei Andrew Beech, Black belt 2nd Dan, will referee at the special WoW Karate Championship on 30th March in sparing matches between WoW Karate Kids. He will be assisted by his two assistants, who are WoW Black Belts. Photo: Giulia, WoW Black Belt Karate Kid in the forefront and others

Battersea Power Station

NHS Thinking Partners

Women of Wandsworth attended the Thinking Partners Forum, as Voluntary Sector partner, to brainstorm and consult with other community organisations and charities on the new NHS Health and Wellbeing strategy 2024-2029, with a focus on prevention. We had to discuss where could working together with the voluntary and community sector and local people make the biggest difference on the future strategy and what are the priorities NHS should be working on.

Wimbledon Foundation

WoW Mums have been invited to Wimbledon Courtside Club to join in the celebration of 10 years of Wimbledon Foundation investing into social community capital. We are very grateful for Wimbledon Foundations' grants over the years and their support of our work in our community. We will continue to collaborate with other community organisations on delivering the best services for our elderly friends and neighbors, as we have been doing for the last 14 years. WoW Mums are looking forward to this celebration next month.
