Mayor Making

WoW Mums are very happy to have been invited to the Mayor Making ceremony at the Town Hall. Congratulations to Cllr Sana Jafri on becoming the Mayor of London Borough of Wandsworth. Her chosen charities are Home Start, Tooting Community Kitchen and Rackets Cubed.

VCS Hub

WoW Mums have been invited to the consultation about forming the new Voluntary and Community Sector VCS Hub at the Wandsworth Town Hall. Following the recent feedback from the VCS and as part of Council's commitment to partnering and supporting the local community organisations, Council identified a 1700 sqft of ground floor space for the potential use as a VCS Hub.

This space at the Town Hall will be in a very accessible location, with good transport links, where all VCS organisations can connect, collaborate and network. At this meeting we engaged with other community organisations and with the Council representatives to express our views on how the new space could be most useful for local community organisations, volunteers and local residents. Following the feedback the Council will explore options and refine the workspace proposition to ensure that it is fit for purpose.

Lunch With Elderly

Julia with her lovely home made cupcakes

WoW Mums had another lovely summer lunch this month with our elderly friends at Holmleigh Court, sheltered accommodation in Battersea. Next one is in June to continue the community bonding and to see the theatre show, performed by local school children. We would like to thank our funders and volunteers for their continual support.

Mayor's Awards

Mayor Juliana Annan, as the Patron of Women in Business Support Network, gave awards to the entrepreneurs to recognise the huge difference that they are making to our community. Colleen Harris, Deputy Lieutenant, attended the ceremony and gave an inspirational speech. It was truly a pleasure to share the evening with such a distinguished group of people, celebrating the achievements and contributions, which made the life in Wandsworth more enjoyable. Looking forward to the next event.
