WoW at the Parliament

WoW Mums attended the All Party Parliamentary Groups' meeting on housing at the Portcullis House to discuss the issues boroughs have with rocketing prices charged for temporary accommodation, which are bankrupting London Councils, as well as talking about other housing issues aggravated by cost of living crisis.

Access For All

Women of Wandsworth have been invited to the special event to inform the community about Wandsworth Council's Access for All programme, Britain's best concessions scheme. This generous scheme has been created to make services more affordable for all and ensure every resident benefits from the opportunities that make Wandsworth such a great place to live, work and visit. It offers eligible residents 100% to 50% discounts on key services such as gym sessions, swimming lessons, wedding ceremonies to event tickets.

WoW Karate

WoW Karate fulfils a child's need for an extracurricular activity, but it also gives them an outlet to explore their mental and physical capabilities. Karate is a type of martial art that helps the children to defend themselves in any situation or conflict, without attacking, because Karate teaches defence skills and how to manage anger and how to maintain respect for others. WoW Karate lessons are on every Saturday from 10 am –12.

Free Food For Elderly

WoW Intergenerational Project started in 2010 to help our elderly neighbors to be less isolated by including them into our community life. WoW Mums have visited local lodges and sheltered accommodations regularly to cook for them and to socialise with them to break the loneliness pattern. The enjoyment of a home-cooked meal doesn't have to stop when you can no longer solely cater for yourself. It is also more enjoyable to eat as a group together with your friends and neighbors.

Since pandemic, we started delivering free fresh food to Doris Emmerton, Haven Lodge, Holmleigh Court and John Kirk lodge on a weekly basis to help the elderly with high cost of living.

We have organised the next hot lunch with elderly on 2nd May at 1pm in Holmleigh Court, sheltered accommodation.

Thank you to all our volunteers who helped us over the years and to our regular funders and supporters.
